American Odds are also known as moneyline bets.

To calculate the potential amount you could win, you have to make sure you add in your original wager.

You might also see odds displayed as something like 6/4 where the first number i

Implied probability can be a little difficult to understand and it takes some ma th to figure things out.

When calculating the implied probability of fractional odds, you&#39;ll use the calculation below.

Money Risked * Odds = Total Payout
