

buy fake lv bag

Sexual Health

Darkfairie17

Master

+1 y

2 1 0 0

No, but I worked in TV production for a while (music video shows). And you'l

I find that a lot of "mainstream" crew members work on p*rn production s too. I know a lot about the "behind the scenes" of the business from those guys. But a lot of it is straight common sense too.

MrOracle

+1 y

Sort

Related

Profile photo for Hector Quintanilla

Yashodhan Taskhedkar

What products are manufactured in the United States?

This is no doubt this is a great question.

Overa

What are some effective ways to sell products in Ghana?

Facebook Marketplace has quickly become a go-to place to sell or buy used items in local communities. The convenience for buyers and sellers to purchase goods a nd communicate easily within the Facebook app has enabled Facebook Marketplace a doption to soar.

Too good to be true: When a deal seems too good to be true, it usually is. Shopp ers should be wary of any listing offering an extremely low price for a valuable item. Likewise, sellers should watch out for potential buyers who offer more th an the asking price.

Counterfeit items: One common Facebook Marketplace scam involves listing fake or damaged items for sale. The seller waits until you've sent a payment, and t he item ends up being a broken or counterfeit item. It's a good idea to alwa ys review the seller's profile closely and read customer reviews before purc hasing an item on Facebook Marketplace, and obtain as much information about the product as possible before buying (for instance, ask the seller to send a video) Tj T* BT /F1

Phishing for personal information: Stay on guard against any requests for inform ation the buyer or seller doesn't need - they may ask for your social securi ty number, birthday, or additional personal information. Phishing scams on Faceb ook Marketplace exist to steal your personal data and information. The scammer m ay ask you for a code or a phone number to complete a two-factor verification co de on an unsecured messaging system. This code could be linked to another app t hat allows them to steal your mobile number and account information, giving them full access to other accounts they may want to hack.

To report a fraudulent seller to Facebook, go to Marketplace and click on the it em listing. Select the seller's name from the listing page and click "R