Please look into the Magnolia Hotel in Omaha, NE. There has been an explosion of reviews for this hotel during January of 2010. Almost all are five stars and most from 1 time contributors who signed up the day of the review. They have managed to bring this hotel up to the 3 ranking in Omaha. This is pure manipulation. Compare to months in 2009, they never had this type of volume and the reviews were not that good. The integrity of Tripadvisor is slowly dropping and this type of behavior is not helping things.
