But Chanel was not born into a life of glamour.

Following the death of her mother, her father left her in an orphanage where she lived until the age of 18.

In 1926, she introduced her first little black dress, reclaiming a color that had and once been reserved for mourning and working-class women.

55 handbag introduced in 1955 with its gold-chain shoulder strap that freed up a woman's hands.

Chanel's collarless jacket reacted against the constricting styles of Christian Dior's New Look, replacing them with a design that was timeless, an instant classic.
