Michael Kent, co-founder and one of the lesser-known individuals of the group, would use his computer software to run through massive amounts of data, which th en provided the group's network of bettors with useful information. Sports betting systems have not always been well trusted or liked by bettors. Front offices have hired noted statistical analysts such as Jeff Sagarin. Regression analysis is a type of statistical technique used to determine the imp ortant factors that affect the outcome of the event. The results determined that the most important aspect to winning the game was p assing efficiency.

For instance, in football, 3 or 7 points are typically scored at a time, so bet s involving a final score frequently include combinations of these two numbers. You can also look for anomalies based on public opinion and team psyche. 11 8.
